To whom it may concern;

PL Consulting Corp. Ontario Energy Initiatives was hired not only to perform an energy audit but to also provide support with the implementation of energy-saving recommendations that were made. Being a small business we were looking for a company that would guide us through the project implementation process and take care of any rebate applications for us.

We have found the staff of PL Consulting to be very knowledgeable, diligent and friendly throughout the audit process. Their audit report was thorough and included project ROI information that was useful in determining which projects should be tackled and in what order. We are currently working with PL Consulting staff to obtain rebate pre-approvals on several projects that were proposed.

It was important to us to find a company that would remain engaged from the beginning of the audit right through to the receipt of rebates after project implementations were complete. So far PL Consulting has remained fully engaged and we are confident that they will continue to be engaged through to the end which we expect to be at least another year or more.
